JULY SCORE OF JAP PLANES KNOCKED OUT BY AMERICAN SEA AND AIR POWER 1,330

Unprecedented Attacks Promise To Reach New Heights During August With Flights of 1,200 Bombs Packing 8,000-Ton Bombs

DAMAGES TO CITIES AND FACTORIES ADMITTED

BULLETIN
San Francisco, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Tokyo radio reported today that U. S. Superforts were striking at the home islands between 9:30 and 11:30 p. m., Japanese time (8:30-10:30 a. m. EWT). A hundred of the planes had been counted in attacks on two cities on Kyushu and two on Honshu, the FCC recorded broadcast added.

Associated Press War Editor

Unprecedented American sea and air power knocked out 1,546 Japanese vessels and more than 1,330 planes in the mid-ocean front yard during July and promised to reach new heights this month with flights of 1,200 Superforts packing 8,000-ton bomb loads.

Even the enemy's imperial headquarters admitted "damages to cities, factories and shipping were considerable." A Tokyo communiqué countered with a claim that 1,021 Allied planes and 25 ships were destroyed or damaged during July.

giving some encouragement to Premier Kantaro Suzuki as he reported today to Emperor Hirohito on "affairs of state."

The imperial communiqué promised that preparations were being made to meet an invasion. But there was so little sign of fight that Associated Press War Correspondent Richard K. O'Malley, riding with the Allied fleet that has been cruising Japanese waters for more than three weeks, commented:

"Japan seems almost to be waging a sitdown war."

Carrier planes from Admiral Halsey's fleet, apparently still in Japanese waters ready to strike again, contributed most of July's astounding total of enemy ship and plane destruction.

The fleet air arm knocked out 1,035 vessels and 1,278 planes since July 10.

Land based planes operating under Admiral Nimitz added 261 ships and surface craft and 53 planes.

The Far Eastern Air Forces contributed 250 more ships since they moved up to Okinawa.

Tokyo reported that the blazing guns of a single American submarine wound up July with a 30-minute bombardment last night of Tomakomai on the northern refuge island of Hokkaido.

Twenty Mustang fighters from two Jima or Okinawa were credited by Tokyo radio with making the first attack in August. They raked airfields and transportation facilities in the heavily hammered Osaka-Kobe area for 50 minutes today.

Japan is taking such a beating that a Tokyo broadcaster moaned "we are enduring the impossible with grinding teeth and clenched fist."

They know it's going to get worse. Nineteen cities have been forewarned they would be firebombed by Superforts. Six of them have seen the promise carried out. Attacks by 1,200 B-29s were promised soon by Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles, deputy commander of the Strategic Air Forces. That is twice the present record formation.

In the back yards of the war, two jungle air forces moved closer to Japan. The Tenth Air Force which supported successful Chinese and British campaigns in Burma joined the 14th in China. The 13th, veterans of the South Pacific air war, moved to the northern Philippines where Maj. Gen. Paul E. Wurtsmith told his men "we are now in on the kill."

More Butter For Civilians In August

Washington, Aug. 1.—(P)—More butter than originally anticipated will be available for civilians during August, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced today.

At the same time, OPA Administrator Chester Bowles announced that no further reduction in the point value of butter is anticipated. Recently this was cut from 24 to 15 points a pound.

Anderson said the amount of creamery butter set aside for government purchase for August has been cut from 30 to 20 per cent.

This reduction was due to higher production during July than expected and indications that August production also will be slightly higher than originally estimated, the secretary said.

A cutback in military requirements, due to army purchases of some butter in Denmark for use in feeding U. S. troops in Europe, also was a factor.

Seven Germans To Hang For Killing Captured U. S. Airmen

Darmstadt, Germany, Aug. 1.—(P)—Seven Germans, two of them women, will be hanged and three others face long prison terms for the killing of six captured airmen last August.

The verdicts were returned late last night after a six-day trial which military court attaches said would serve as a model of procedure against hundreds of other Nazis charged with similar crimes.

One of 11 defendants in the case, largest group yet brought to trial in Germany for a war crime, was acquitted. Each of the group denied any serious connection with a mob which beat the airmen to death.

Two of those sentenced to die are sisters, Margarete Witzler, 50, and Katha Reinhardt, 38, both mothers. They cried loudly when the sentence was pronounced.

Four German civilian attorneys made separate arguments for the defendants and afterwards said the trial had been conducted fairly. One blamed the crime on Nazi propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels, who, he said, told the German people that civilians would not be held responsible for what happened to Allied fliers who bailed out.

An American investigator, who called the killings the most brutal he had encountered, said the American airmen were being led through Russels-Hein from one prison train to another when the two women incited a mob by shouting, "beat them to death."

A seven block "march of death" followed, the investigator said, ending with the fliers dead on the streets of the little village, their bodies crushed with sticks and stones.

A. A. F. Now 38 Years Old Started Without A Plane

Washington, Aug. 1.—(P)—Thirty-eight years ago today the Army assigned one captain and two enlisted men to "study the flying machine and the possibility of adapting it to military purposes."

They decided the machine could be adapted. Stemming from their decision is this record of the United States Army Air Forces:

1. Dropped 2,000,000 tons of bombs on the Axis in World War II.
2. Destroyed 43,900 enemy planes.
3. Wrecked, in cooperation with Britain's RAF, from 30 to 80 per cent of German's 50 largest cities.
4. Has ready a program for obliterating Japan's war economy by dropping 2,700,000 tons in 1946 if the Japanese don't give up before then.

The question of whether victory through air power alone is possible goes unsettled. Officially the AAF does not say so, even on this, its officially proclaimed "Air Force Day." Its closest approach to such a statement is made in presenting the case for strategic bombing, using Germany as an example.

From the three-man "division of aeronautics," which had no plane to start with when formed on Aug. 1, 1907, the organization has evolved into a present force of 2,300,000 men and 65,000 airplanes.

The first plane was purchased by the army from the Wright Brothers two years after the study group was formed. It had a wing span of 36 feet, four inches, a speed of 40 miles an hour, carried two men of a total weight not exceeding 350 pounds and fuel for a 125-mile flight.

Today Army Air Forces has developed from that original model a series of specialized weapons of (Turn to Page Nine)

Gen. Catroux Inside Story Of Indo-China

By EDDIE GILMORE
Moscow, Aug. 1.—(P)—Gen. Georges Catroux said today that his policy as governor-general of French Indochina had been aimed to save the colony by negotiation and stalling rather than to lose it to a tremendously superior Japanese force in a one-sided fight.

Now France's ambassador to Soviet Russia Catroux said he had been without hope of aid from the United States and Britain or from the Vichy government of Marshal Petain.

His hitherto unpublished story of the swift-moving events leading up to Japan's adventure in Indo-China was disclosed in response to a question by the Associated Press after it was stated by a witness at the Petain trial in Paris that Petain removed Catroux as governor general because he was favorable to Japanese demands and replaced him with Adm. Jean Decoux. (The witness was Charles Roux, who was secretary general in the foreign ministry.)

"I will not refute this allegation," Catroux said, "except by reference to the irrefutable testimony of authentic facts."

The French general added that his statements were supported by official texts which would be published shortly.

New Acting OPA Regional Director

New York, Aug. 1.—(P)—Leo P. Gentner, special assistant to Price Administrator Chester Bowles, stepped today into the post vacated by the resignation of Daniel P. Woolley as regional OPA Administrator.

Gentner will serve as acting regional administrator until a permanent successor to Woolley is appointed.

Bowles announced yesterday in Washington that he had accepted Woolley's resignation, effective immediately.

Gentner, named to succeed Woolley, has had more than three years experience with OPA, first as a regional administrator for the Pacific coast and more recently as Bowles' assistant. He is a native of New York.

He will supervise OPA region two, including New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia, which Woolley has headed since Nov. 15, 1943.

LEAHY LETTER IS OFFERED AT PETAIN TRIAL

Chief of Staff to Pres. Truman Expresses Belief That Marshal Always Acted For France

LAVAL TO BE CALLED

Paris, Aug. 1.—(P)—Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to President Truman, expressed the belief that Marshal Petain always acted in the best interests of France in a letter read today at the treason trial of the old soldier.

As read in court the letter of Leahy, who is attending the Big Three conference at Potsdam, expressed "high regard" for Petain and said he was unable to appear as a witness because of his position.

He had been U. S. ambassador to the Vichy regime of Marshal Petain until the Germans took over the unoccupied portions of France in November, 1942, when North Africa was invaded.

Leahy's letter, dated July 22, was in reply to Petain's request that he return to France as a witness.

The admiral stated that he recalled that on many occasions he had heard Petain express a desire to see the Nazis overthrown.

After the letter was read, Chief Judge Paul Mongibeaux asserted: "There is one sentence against Petain in that letter."

The defense protested and Mongibeaux did not explain the sentence to which he referred.

The old soldier's counsel said that Pierre Laval, described yesterday as Petain's "evil genius," would be summoned as a witness.

As Gen. Maxime Weygand returned for further cross examination, heaved prosecutor Andre Mornet demanded that "we return to the essential facts of the Petain trial" and avoid a repetition of yesterday's session when Weygand, Petain and former Premier Paul Reynaud engaged in bitter recriminations.

"This is not a trial of the armistice," said the prosecutor who sent Mata Hari before a firing squad in the First World War. "The armistice is only a preface to the accusation. Petain's treason on would have been impossible (Turn to Page Nine)

Navy Reveals Historic Saga In Philippines

Washington, Aug. 1.—(P)—Even mattresses were used to help stem leaks punched in the battleship Mississippi January 9 by a bounced-about Japanese suicide plane that took the lives of 22 men.

The navy told today of the accident in Lingayen Gulf in the Philippines. It added that the 28-year-old battleship was "fully operable" after the attack and that in later overhaul at Pearl Harbor "her fire power was increased 300 per cent."

This increased power, it added, "probably will save the lives of hundreds in the future." There were 18 injured, in addition to the dead, in the January 9 action.

Fires started by the suicide plane were put out in 20 minutes. The ship did not drop out of the firing line. She continued to carry out assignments until March, when she went to Pearl Harbor for general overhaul and permanent repair of battle damage.

Plans Announced For Stewart Rites

Harrisburg, Aug. 1.—(P)—Governor Martin and members of his cabinet and members of the Indiana County Medical Society were named as honorary pallbearers for tomorrow's funeral services for Dr. A. H. Stewart, state secretary of health, who died yesterday.

Dr. Stewart's body was taken late yesterday to Indiana, Pa., his home-city where funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the United Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Indiana.

Governor Martin ordered flags on all state buildings placed at half-staff Thursday. Offices of the health department will be closed at noon for the remainder of the day. Other offices will be closed between 2 and 3 p. m., the hour of the funeral.

Living Costs Highest Since Spring of 1921

Washington, Aug. 1.—(P)—Living costs in June reached the highest level since the spring of 1921, the Labor Department reported today.

As of June 15 the Bureau of Labor statistics cost of living index stood at 129 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The index is based on retail prices paid by wage earners and lower-salaried workers in large cities.

Idle In Labor Disputes Less Than 37,000

By the Associated Press
The total number of workers idle in labor disputes fell to about 37,000 today as 5,000 Crosley Corporation employees ended a four-day walkout in Cincinnati.

The big plant manufactures radio and radar equipment and the War Labor Board and navy department had appealed for a prompt ending of the stoppage.

In Milwaukee the city's garbage collection and disposal system was paralyzed by a dispute over wage rates and job reclassification, the fourth walkout in the system in two years. The CIO State, County and Municipal Employees Union local reported 170 persons were out.

The Monsanto Chemical Company asked the government to take over operation of its Monsanto, Ill., plant, shut down since Thursday by a jurisdictional dispute between the iron workers and pipefitters union. Approximately 1,200 persons were idle.

Of the 39 walkouts and strikes across the country, affecting various industries and businesses, only two others affect more workers than the Crosley stoppage. These are the disputes at the Southern Shipbuilding Corp. at Savannah, Ga., idling 7,500 workers, and at Tampa, Fla., where 6,500 cigar makers are on strike.

Health Report Is Awaited At Force

Force, Aug. 1.—(P)—A pretty woman doctor and 275 miners who "struck" because of what they call intolerable sanitary conditions today awaited a state department of health report on the water supply in this northern Pennsylvania coal town.

The woman, 33-year-old Dr. Elizabeth O. Hayes, former worker at famed Grenfell mission in Labrador, quit as physician for Shawmut Mining Co. in protest against the firm's refusal to make health improvements. She said she would move away, leaving 4,000 persons without medical care, unless something was done.

The miners quit two weeks ago, declaring they won't work without a company physician at hand. At Harrisburg, Dr. J. Moore Moore, deputy secretary of health, said a district engineer investigating a threatened typhoid epidemic here reported "the public water supply was in good shape" but that "private wells had been contaminated by sewage from out-houses."

Official At State May Get New Post

Harrisburg, Aug. 1.—(P)—The welfare department reported today that Leonard Rosenzweig, assistant superintendent of the Warren State Hospital, is under consideration for appointment as superintendent of the Dixmont Mental Hospital, located near Ben Avon, Pittsburgh.

Privately-owned but aided by the state to a large degree, the hospital accommodates approximately 1,000 patients.

The 1945 legislature enacted a law enabling the commonwealth to take over the institution at the request of its board of trustees. The welfare department will begin operating it Sept. 1, a spokesman said.

WORK STOPPAGE HALT

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1.—(P)—Work stoppages ended in two Pittsburgh steel mills last night and started in two others. Thirty "soaking pit" workers at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. plant at Braddock agreed to return to their jobs, pending action on their grievance—a demand for an extra member—through regular contract channels. Their action returned 1,500 other men to work in the Braddock plant and 112 at the C-I Duquesne Mill.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE WILL FLY TO ENGLAND TO LUNCH WITH BRITISH RULER ON RENOWN

Early Conclusion of Big Three Conference, Possibly Before Nightfall, Foreseen Following Announcement of Trip

TO RETURN TO STATES ON THE U. S. S. AUGUSTA

BULLETIN
By DANIEL DE LUCE
Potsdam, Aug. 1.—(P)—The Big Three came to the tonight of their historic sessions, upon which the future of the world may possibly hinge. It was announced to Allied correspondents that no press representatives would be permitted to see the ceremonial conclusion of the parley. A negative reply was given to correspondents' letters to each of the Big Three asking press conferences with them, or the heads of their foreign ministries. It was indicated the final communiqué would be issued on Friday, one day after all the delegations had departed from Potsdam, with a simultaneous release scheduled in Washington, London and Moscow.

London, Aug. 1.—(P)—President Truman will fly to England tomorrow to meet King George VI, it was announced today.

The meeting will take place aboard H. M. S. Renown, where they will lunch together, an official British announcement declared.

The president will be accompanied by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Admiral William D. Leahy, and is expected to arrive about noon.

A previous announcement disclosed that Truman was planning to fly to Plymouth to meet the king before proceeding home aboard the U. S. cruiser Augusta, but did not disclose the time of his departure from Potsdam.

The British announcement said Truman would arrive at an unspecified British airport and proceed to Plymouth, where he will board the U. S. cruiser Augusta. The king will embark on the Renown, a British battle cruiser, and both ships will steam out for a rendezvous at sea.

After lunch, the president will leave for Renown and return to the Augusta and the king will board the Augusta to take leave of the president.

The king will not be accompanied by the queen.

The king will leave London tonight and will be accompanied by Lord Halifax, British ambassador to Washington, Sir Alan Lascelles, his private secretary, and Capt. Sir Harold Campbell.

White House correspondents who accompanied Mr. Truman to Europe were packed and ready to leave at a moment's notice with the presidential party.

Completion of the drafting in final phraseology of the involved three agreements to two languages, English and Russian, was believed to be the main task remaining. Principles of these arguments already have been decided.

(President Truman will fly to England tomorrow to meet with the king, an official British announcement in London disclosed. The president and the king will meet aboard H. M. S. Renown, and have lunch together.)

While the announcement concerning Truman's plans did not indicate the expected time of his departure, spokesman confirmed that the parley was nearing an end. He disclosed that the president, Premier Stalin and other ministers today—and there was speculation it may be their last, (Turn to Page Nine)

LIVESTOCK HIJACKERS ARE BUSY IN STATE

Harrisburg, Aug. 1.—(P)—Pennsylvania farmers were cautioned today by the department of agriculture not to sell livestock to a dealer "if they can't show a card."

The department said farmers were being victimized by hijackers who posed as livestock dealers, bargained for meat animals of poultry, and then promised to send a check the next day to cover the purchases they loaded into a waiting truck.

In many cases, the department said, neither the check nor the dealer came back.

Jersey City "Secret Pier" Plays Vital Part in the War

New York, Aug. 1.—(P)—As the last ammunition ship to leave New York steamed out of the harbor, the New York Port of Embarkation disclosed today that a "secret pier" in Jersey City, N. J., was "the major munitions shipping point for World War Two."

The pier, "largest installation of its kind in the world," was the loading site of 2,696,811 measure-tons of bombs and ammunition—ranging from six-ton block-busters to small arms and loose powder, the port's announcement declared.

The explosives were loaded from 54,000 freight cars into 1,800 ammunition ships during the past three years. From now on, bomb and ammunition loading will be done at other points on the Atlantic seaboard, removed from populated areas.

The 1,800 foot pier, at Caven Point terminal, reaches into New York harbor from the end of a 2,200 foot causeway. It is half a mile south of the Statue of Liberty and less than three miles from New York's skyscrapers.

The pier was open to official civilian visitors for the first time today and there was a brief ceremony when the red flag—the danger signal—was hauled down and replaced by the red and gold winged-wheel flag of the Army Transportation Corps.

The last ammunition ship to leave was the Polish freighter Stalowa Wola, laden with seven tons of lend-lease explosives.

Caven Point was constructed by the government in October, 1941 at a cost of $17,000,000.

INSECTICIDE ON SALE

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(AP)—Sale of DDT war-developed insecticide to the general public started today in Pennsylvania as the agriculture department granted the first certificate of registration to Walter Steuber, Swarthmore manufacturer, Miles Horst, agriculture secretary, said registration of all persons who planned to sell the powerful insecticide was required by a state law. Horst cautioned Pennsylvanians that the preparation, designed to kill mosquitos and other pests, kills beneficial insects as well as the harmful ones.

Agency Group Has Meeting To Plan Work

The quarterly meeting of the Council of Community Agencies was held in the small courtroom at the court house at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Robert Dunham presided and the first report was that of the membership committee.

Two organizations, the Warren Christian Youth Council and the American Legion Auxiliary have affiliated with the council since the last meeting. Nelson Johnson reported progress in the compiling of the data for a directory to be made available by the Veterans' Administration Committee. Any group not already contacted are urged to get in touch with Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Louise Mackay or Mrs. Marion MacDowell. Community organizations were also urged to use the community calendar in the scheduling of their events.

John G. Rossman gave a summary report of his committee's work on a survey of how agencies are working with young people and how young people participate in those activities. In addition to questionnaires and compiling of data there had been a community meeting when the information had been distributed in tabulated form. The acceptance of his report resulted in the appointment of a committee, instructed to bring back to the council a plan designed to overcome facts revealed in the report on youth activities. All members of this committee are members of the Council of Community Agencies. Paul Harrington was designated as chairman of the following committee: Chester Seymour, Mrs. Althea Correll, Ralph Wagner, Miss Mary Church, Mrs. Olive Huff, Rev. Wayne Furman and Miss Georgia Spinnay.

Announcement was made by Mrs. D. E. Conway of a Warren county conference on social welfare to be held here in Warren on Friday, October 26. Continuing the presentation of the functions of the member agencies, H. Claire Elliott told of the areas of work of the children's Aid Society.

The next meeting of the council is scheduled for October.

Bill and Joe Fuellhart, 406 Third avenue, will leave Thursday to spend the month of August at Beaumaris on Muskegon Lake, Canada, with their grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Marsh, of Pittsburgh.

HARROWING EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Elizabeth Naylor, formerly of Warren, was one of those experiencing the disaster of the Empire State building in New York last Saturday, according to word received by local relatives. Mrs. Naylor was at her desk on the 65th floor when the crash came. She said people were at first stunned, thinking it might be lightning had struck, then fearing they had been bombed and of course confusion and to evacuate them hour it took to say the least a harrowing experience, even though they were fortunate to escape injury.

CORN SUFFERED

The heavy rain of yesterday took a toll of the corn in gardens and fields west and south of the city. The corn was beaten down by the heavy fall of rain and gardeners are today scanning their crops and wondering if the corn will again rear its tassles to the sky. During the downpour 1.05 inches of rain fell which was reflected in the rising of the river which this morning is at four feet and slowly rising. Bass fishing has again been dealt a heavy blow. Trout season which closed yesterday was ruined during the past ten days by the heavy rains which made the streams muddy.

CLUB OPEN SUNDAY

The Marconi Outing Club, located at one of the most scenic places on the Allegheny river won much praise from Former Senator James J. Davis when he visited the place last week. He sat on the lawn for some time enjoying the hills and scenery and pronounced it "unbeatable". The club is open Sunday at present and every Sunday may enjoy picnics on the grounds which have been equipped with fire places and tables. During the next few weeks a number of large picnics will be held on the Club grounds. Warren Lodge of Elks will stage its annual picnic there later in the month.

Salute the Army Air Force

Today is Air Force Day—officially proclaimed by President Truman to celebrate the 38th anniversary of the U. S. Army Signal Corps order, on Aug. 1, 1907, creating a Division of Aeronautics "to study the flying machine and the possibility of adapting it to military purposes." The new division started with one captain and two enlisted men—and has grown into the present Army Air Force comprising more than 2,300,000 officers and men. Symbolizing this amazing growth is the montage above, with (bottom photo) Orville and Wilbur Wright demonstrating their first plane at Fort Myer, Va., for B. D. Fouois and Lt. Frank P. Lahm, contrasted with the giant B-29 Superfortresses above.

Bell Employee In Company Forty Years

Forty years of service in the telephone industry are being marked today by Stuart F. Custer, of 114 Seneca street, Warren, local repairman for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Custer started with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company on August 1, 1905, transferring to the local company in 1907 and has lived in Warren since that time. He is a member of the Masons and the Odd Fellows.

Stuart F. Custer

The veteran telephone man was honored at a special luncheon last Thursday, in the Carver House, attended by company executives and co-workers. He was presented with a gold service pin by Julius A. Krause, district plant superintendent.

Mr. Custer is married and has one daughter, Miss Maxine G. Custer, who is employed as a draftsman in the Bell Company's local office.

Recruiter For Wacs Coming On Thursday

Most Wacs in the European Theater of Operations, having won their battle stars and praise from their commanding officers, like the GI's, want to come home, according to Mrs. Orval B. Lord, national chairman of the Civilian Advisory Committee of the Women's Army Corps, who returned after a sixty-day tour of war installations in England, the continent and Africa.

Homecoming must wait until transportation can be arranged and replacements found for these with the requisite 44 points. Many Wacs have acquired these, and some wear as many as five battle stars on their service ribbons. Wacs have been doing highly essential jobs in post-war Europe, as they did during the war. Generals volunteered praise of the work of the Wacs, and the cry everywhere was for more until the job is done.

Wacs are helping in the redeployment of troops to the Pacific, at Marseille. They man the switchboard in Paris, where 20,000 calls a day is normal traffic. They work in transportation, as interpreters and translators, in embassies and special services. They are at Chartres, in charge of a compound of 400 German women prisoners, and according to Mrs. Lord are doing as good an administrative job as their commanding officer had seen anywhere.

In view of the fact that vast numbers of women are needed for replacements, the recruitment quota has been hiked considerably. S/Sgt. Mary L. Gravel, in charge of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station in Erie will be in Warren at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday, August 2nd, from 1:00 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. to interview all interested applicants.

Securities Commission Collecting Letters From Canada's Fleece

Warren folk who are on the "sucker list" of the Canadian gold mine stock salesmen have been receiving many letters during the weeks passed. The big money of war times had attracted the fleecers to the strong boxes of Warren folk. The letters purport to be market guides and show the great earnings possible. Most of the stocks sell for only a few cents but when you get enough of them they mount up. Warren several years ago had experiences with gold stocks and many of the older residents leave amid their possessions engraved shares of stock in such things as Brazilian diamond mines, Big Master Gold Mines, Skimclean

Copper Mines, etc. The sad part of it was that many of the projects were promoted by Warren men.

The Pennsylvania Securities Commission is collecting letters sent to the suckers and Warren folk will do well to send such letters to the Commission at Harrisburg. The weekly take of the Canadians from this state is estimated at $1,000,000. Inquiries in answer to the letters are usually followed by high pressure telephone calls as the Canadians do not care to risk penitentiary terms by making personal calls.

Headache Is A Symptom

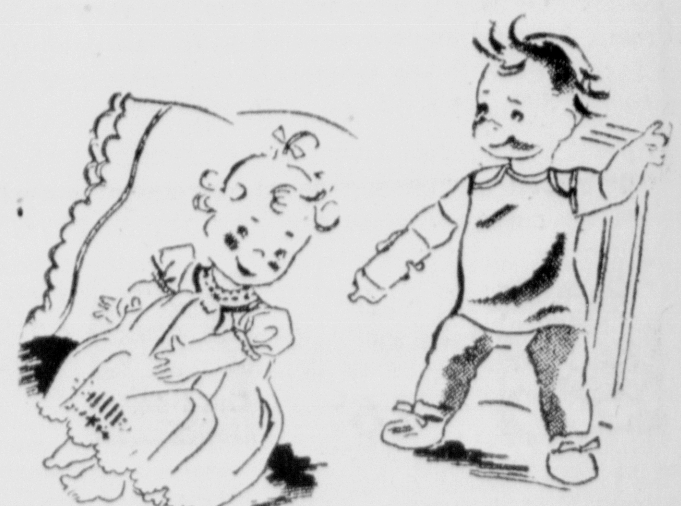

By Mullen Drug Co.

No one ever has "just a headache." Somewhere in his or her system, hidden to all but a qualified physician, there is a cause, a reason, for the ache. And it's a physical disability that only a doctor can correctly diagnose, prescribe the remedy and thus save the sufferer from more serious complications.

Perhaps no human ailment is so frequently neglected as are headaches, nor so unsuccessfully self-treated. Even occasional headaches should serve as a warning that something is wrong with the functioning of the organic structure, and should result in a visit to the doctor's office for advice.

Then the choice of a druggist to fill the prescription should be a careful one.

Big Oil Deal Involves Properties In Warren County

Titusville, Aug. 1—Documents were signed yesterday in Titusville providing for the transfer of a group of properties to the Patoli Corporation, newest and largest oil producing concern in the Middle Pennsylvania District.

The owners of Patoli, which now holds between 14,000 and 15,000 acres in Warren, Forest and Venango counties, are the Cities Service Oil Company of Pennsylvania, C. C. Hogg of Pleasantville and R. J. Hopkins of Titusville.

L. M. Bound of New York, official of the Cities Service Oil Company, is president of Patoli and Mr. Hogg is vice president and general manager. The directors are Mr. Bound, Mr. Hogg, Mr. Hopkins and C. E. Kinder of the Cities Service Oil Company's Titusville plant.

In addition to the large acreage taken over from Northern Ordnance Inc., the corporation has purchased several thousand acres in the old Venango county second sand field at Bully Hill and Victory Hill near Franklin and in the vicinity of Kennerdell.

Cities Service interest in oil production dates back to the 1870's through two concerns which later became the Crew Levick Company and then Cities Service—the Pennsylvania Paraffine Works and the Bessemer Pipe Line Company. Mr. Bound said yesterday that Cities Service became the largest investor in Patoli in order to assure itself of an ample source of supply of unrivalled Pennsylvania Grade crude oil for its world-famous Koolmotor automotive and aviation motor oils.

Patoli will apply the most modern technique of secondary recovery to obtain a maximum production of crude, corporation officials told The Herald. The Cities Service Oil Company was the first to apply water flooding successfully south of the Bradford field, near Clarendon, they said. This does not mean that water flooding will be the technique employed in Patoli properties, they made clear. The methods will be determined by extensive research and the best engineering practices.

The properties purchased from Northern Ordnance include: Warren county—Schofield, Averill, White, Schorman, Fertig, Ley and National.

Forest county—National, Venango county—National, Anna M. Dale, O. M. Dale, McQuaid, Witherup, Grimm, Rembold, Carnahan and Spangler.

The field office for the new corporation has been established in Pleasantville.

GASOLINE FOR EX-G. I. JOE

At long last justice is to be done to discharged veterans in the matter of gasoline, and the G. I. Joe, who is no longer a member of the armed forces, is going to receive the same consideration that has been enjoyed by his brother soldier home on furlough, the O. P. A. having announced Tuesday afternoon that beginning Friday discharged veterans will be allowed thirty gallons of gas to use as they see fit. They will not have to tell the ration board they want gasoline to go out and look for a job as many of them did in the past. All they will have to do is show their discharge papers and tell the person in charge at the ration board what they want and they will get their thirty gallons of gas without ado.

Whether or not the editorial published in the Times-Mirror a couple of weeks ago informing the public how the discharged veteran was being discriminated against had anything to do with the ruling of the Office of Price Administration putting the discharged man on an equal footing with the furloughed one we are unable to say for a certainty, but we are egotistical enough to believe that it did have something to do with it. We know that congressmen and senators were flooded with reprints of the editorial and "letters to the editor" and we heard directly from several senators and congressmen that they were going to do something about it. Anyway the thing is settled and Joe is going to get his gas.

TALK OF PEACE

It is unlikely that the peace rumors and "peace feelers" are at an end, even though the Japanese have received and rejected the American-British-Chinese ultimatum. For the Jap warlords, despite their saber-rattling, are obviously preoccupied with the idea of ending the war.

To this end they have made some ridiculous proposals. They have suggested peace terms which would create a status quo ante Pearl Harbor and restore the very conditions that brought on hostilities.

These proposals might be sensible in a condition of stalemate and mutual exhaustion. They might even be offered by a magnanimous victor. But from the leadership of a country faced with imminent and terrible destruction, they are only ludicrous.

Continuation of Japanese resistance is puzzling, and has been for a long time. The Jap leaders know the Allies' strength. They know they are doomed to defeat, and they have long had a general idea of the peace terms. The ultimatum's conditions were not particularly new or startling.

But the conditions were unmistakably final: "Following are our terms. We will not deviate from them. There are no alternatives. We shall brook no delay."

Why then does the Japanese government invite ruin on itself and its people? Has it so long divorced honesty from diplomacy that it thinks all other governments do the same? Or has it been misled by the very minority sentiment in this country that calls for an early peace with Japan, even if the terms are moderate and favorable to the enemy?

It must be conceded that the clamor here at home for a definition of "unconditional surrender" may have been partly responsible for the ultimatum. There was no such demand in high places for the same definition when Germany was on her last legs. Then only the most disreputable domestic Fascists professed not to understand the meaning of unconditional surrender, or to ask something less drastic for the Nazis.

But it does not necessarily mean, because the government has acceded to demands for this definition in Japan's case, that it regards Japan as either a less important enemy or less of a menace to world peace than the Germans.

It may be that this government and its Allies feel that there is more fanaticism in the Japanese field commands and among the common soldiers than there is in the Tokyo government. With Germany it was somewhat different. Her army was no pushover, but troops did surrender in droves when the game was up. It was in the highest Nazi circles that fanaticism was constantly preached and practiced.

Perhaps the Allies feel that the Japanese people, whose modern history of militarism is not quite so black as the Germans', have now learned their lessons and are ready to behave once the warlords are turned out.

Washington In Wartime

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Jack Stinnett Is On Vacation)

WASHINGTON—The man who has taken over the labor secretaryship in the Truman cabinet is going to apply the experience of a legislator and a judge to the first executive job he has ever held.

He came to the labor department from a federal judgeship. Before that he was a U. S. Senator.

Lewis B. Schwellenbach, of Washington state, has Washington officialdom talking about the practical way he has taken hold of his new assignment, one which he says took him away from "the best job in the world" on the bench.

And if anyone thinks he is out to expand his power for power's sake, listen to what the former jurist and pal of President Truman has to say:

"I don't want a lot of bureaus just to increase my power. I'm not trying to grab power. What I'm seeking is to practice under the department only those agencies that fit here."

AS FOR applying judicial procedure to his executive department, he says:

"Being a federal judge is the easiest job in the world. All you do is take the facts, check them with the law, and decide a case on its merits. I'm going to see if I can hold a cabinet position and make decisions on the same basis—listen to pressures brought and try to appraise them, and reach conclusions on what you think is right and not on the basis of what might be expedient."

Schwellenbach's "General Order No. 1" to his employees had a legislative as well as a judicial ring. He emphasized it was the function of every member of his department to execute the laws "as Congress has written them and as the courts have interpreted them."

"The fact that he may think the Congress should have written or the courts should have interpreted a law differently in no case justifies him in ignoring or attempting to circumvent the law. I will expect full cooperation in this policy."

The secretary told reporters the order was not aimed at any specific instances, but from past experience as Senator he knew it was "an old Washington custom" for executive departments to interpret congressional laws any way they saw fit.

SCHWELLENBACH hit it off well in his first jousts with the newsmen after entering the cabinet. He has agreed to their suggestion that he see them regularly instead of at irregular intervals as was the practice of his predecessor, Miss Frances Perkins.

He even invited suggestions from the reporters covering the "labor run" on how his department should be operated and what labor boards and divisions should be merged with his department.

He has talked with more than 30 labor leaders and some employers' industrial relations representatives, too. He says he's not going to take any position on controversial questions until he finds out what his job is and how extensive it should be after reorganization.

He expects to have his merger recommendations ready for the President's study by Aug. 1.

UTAH'S METALS

In reckoning the Nation's wealth from which War Bond holders will be beneficiaries in years to come, most people fail to recognize the importance of Utah as a mineral producer. They will be surprised to learn that the value of Utah's total ore in 1943 exceeded that of all other states. It gave the world gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc worth $124,348,439. It topped all states for gold output with $13,361,705 and stood second for copper, $33,993,000; lead $9,805,000 and silver $6,619,392. Its ore deposits have scarcely been touched.

"Where's all the Coke gone, anyway?"

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

JAMESTOWN COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

Jamestown, New York

It's a question a lot of people are asking these days, all over the U. S. A. And the answer is: there's a world-wide sugar shortage, caused by the world-wide disorder and confusion that goes along with war.

Sugar shortage means Coke shortage because Coca-Cola never compromises with quality. Today, yesterday, tomorrow—Coca-Cola means Coca-Cola, the same quality as always.

So you see, nobody is to blame—least of all your dealer. He doesn't like the Coke shortage any better than you do! So will you remember, please—if you don't get your Coca-Cola today, to ask for it again tomorrow?

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.

Chapter 4

A SLIGHT diversion occurred a few days later. An ambulance screamed up before the main door, then went slithering around to the rear. Carla came in dramatically and announced that "Our Mr. Sheridan has been injured."

"Our Mr. Sheridan," it developed, had been overseeing a new type of impeller being fitted into place, and a new hand had become nervous and dropped his end. The other end had slid out of the helper's grasp, and the heavy wheel had smashed onto Mark Sheridan's foot.

Our Mr. Sheridan, having had a few bones in his foot soured, reposed in the hospital long enough for treatment, and Jane was given the dubious pleasure of meeting Mr. Haskins.

"He doesn't fit in," she thought, as she watched the board member move around; "doesn't belong. He'd never have enough money to buy stock in this company. . . . Perhaps, though, he inherited it. He's a clerk, born a clerk, and can be nothing else."

And Saturday noon he took Carla to lunch.

"Miss Grey," Carla said, before she left, "I want those order sheets done in triplicate and filed before you leave. And no mistakes. Leave the originals on Mr. Sheridan's desk. I'll return in time to get them into the early evening mail." She turned to the others. "You girls may leave now."

They left, all but Evelyn, who had work she wanted to finish, and Jane typed away contentedly. Even routine work was a pleasure with Carla out of the way.

It was Evelyn who answered the telephone on Carla's desk. Jane, free of Carla, was preparing her sheets by pre-fitting carbon between them and heard some of the conversation.

"She didn't say."

"I'm sorry. . . . Oh, but listen, I'm sure Miss Grey does. Oh, yes, she can; yes, I'm just sure. What? I don't know, but just a minute—"

"Jane," she called across the room, "you drive, don't you?" And when Jane nodded, laughing, she turned back. "Yes, she does, and I know she'd be glad to. What? All right; she'll be there."

Evelyn replaced the receiver and danced across to Jane. "That was Mark Sheridan. Oh, Jane, now's your chance to get your digs in. There's a big government camp to open east of here, and they're going to need pumps, and Mr. Sheridan just has to get out there to look the place over so's he can put in a bid, and he can't drive with his foot smashed, and he needs someone to do both dictation and—"

"—and you'll do my work," cut in Jane, rising. "Thank you, Evelyn. I'll do my best to—as you say—get my digs in."

A DOORMAN was awaiting her at the Athletic Club. A moment later attendants escorted Mark Sheridan down the steps and across the pavement to the car.

Resolutely Jane kept her hands on the wheel. Why must they want to fly to straighten that disreputable tie, and the collar of his topcoat?

"Mighty fine of you, Miss—"

"Grey," provided Jane.

Fifteen minutes later she glanced at him again. "You needn't try to push out the floor boards, Mr. Sheridan. I'm accustomed to driving in New York traffic."

"What? Oh! I'm sorry. You do handle the car like a veteran."

Half an hour later he spoke again. "Miss—Miss—"

"Grey," supplied Jane.

"Miss Grey, you drive like a man," he stated. "New York," he added. "Why, say, I thought you came from the hills here—Jackson or some place."

"Yellow Valley," she corrected.

"I came to the Sheridan Company from there. However, I came back to Yellow Valley from New York. I was with Guffery Foundries there."

They came to the field and a military officer came out to greet them.

The two men talked, and occasionally drew the willing Jane into their discussion. Then, their business terminated, Jane and Mark drove away.

"Miss—Miss Grey," Mark pounced on the name as though it had been about to evaporate before him, "you say your typewriter hasn't arrived?"

"It has; it arrived yesterday." "Well, Miss—Miss Grey—" Jane felt as though she were helping him capture that elusive cognomen.

"I intend to, Mr. Sheridan," she said, anticipating what he would have asked. "I've nothing to do either this evening or tomorrow. I can probably complete a draft of what you dictated this afternoon by nine o'clock. Would you like me to send it to your club at that time? You could make such corrections as you wish and return it, and I could make a final copy and have it at your club by—say, ten o'clock tomorrow morning."

A relaxed Mark Sheridan grinned at her as she drew the car up before the curb. "I've a hunch I'll sleep until you send that report in," he confessed.

"You'll probably tackle it with a fresher mind if you do," she replied.

The doorman had signaled attendants. They were bearing down on the car.

"Do you know, Miss—"

"Think of the color of rain clouds," begged Jane. "Gray, gray days—"

He nodded. "Do you know, I haven't once thought of you as a—well, a stenographer or—or a secretary. You've been—well, like another man. I've had a fine afternoon, Miss Rain."

Servicemen Will Be Honored With Community Party

Warren young people have been asking when the next community party will be held at Beatty school. The date has been set for a week from Saturday, August 11th. Another community recreation night is also being planned for Saturday, August 25th.

The Committee on Community Recreation has been requested to number of times to try something special for Warren servicemen home on leave. Every party has a good representation of uniformed men, who have expressed their enjoyment of the community parties.

But on the 11th, servicemen will be especially honored by the teens and twenties in Warren. The whole party theme, decorating and floor show, will center on the armed forces.

Committees are being organized and their chairmen are looking for volunteers to help make the party one servicemen will remember after their leave is over. Anyone in their teens or twenties or adults who are interested in helping with doing "something special" for our servicemen are asked to call 1513, 1732 or 23153.

The Men About Town Orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for dancing on the outside court. Numbers are being booked this week for the floor show, for which the committee hopes to have a special surprise attraction.

Cuts and Slices

Swamping the "cookery" editor about how is a avalanche of varied queries all pertaining to the same common problem: What about meat, now that victory in Europe is assured? And here's a good answer from the Office of War Information and a good explanation of the meat outlook as well:

"V-E Day does not mean a reduction in the Army's meat requirements for 1945 any more than it does a reduction in the Army's over-all food requirements. Troops in Europe will get less canned meat rations... they will get more fresh meats, which many combat troops have yearned for while those on the home front still had plenty. They will want and need and get as much meat as they did before victory in Europe."

On top of this continued need in Europe, it is an obvious fact that stock in the Pacific, particularly of canned meats and combat rations, must be increased for the intensified war against Japan.

Although we had a great victory over the Germans, we still have just as many men in service as we had before, and they require just as much food. Men, who in combat often subsisted on emergency rations, now will have a chance to get hot, kitchen-prepared meals—their first in many months.

Increased meat production can't come overnight. So it will be a long time before we can pick and choose meats the way we used to do. The smart housewife will keep on learning how to serve the less well known cuts still to be had occasionally at the markets and will increase her study of the Department of Agriculture bulletins suggesting how best to make use of meat substitutes and how to keep meals balanced on less meat.

MRS. O. C. HIRTZEL

North East Breeze—The death on July 29 of Mrs. O. C. Hirtzel, after a long and painful illness, removes from the community a woman who will long be remembered for her many services which were done in the spirit of the good Samaritan.

Beatrice Helen Dewey, born in North East October 12, 1872, was the daughter of Deniston D. Dewey and Sarah Helen Coon, descendants of colonial American families of this region. After graduation from North East High School and business college, she was engaged as bookkeeper and stenographer by local business concerns until her marriage, September 17, 1902, to Mr. Orris C. Hirtzel. The couple started housekeeping in the dwelling at 29 Gilson street which has since remained the family home. Mrs. Hirtzel was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

During World War I, Mrs. Hirtzel was first assistant secretary and later secretary of the local branch of the Red Cross. The zeal with which she discharged her duties is still praised by those who were associated with her in the work of that organization. She was the principal organizer of the North East Visiting Nurses Association, which she served for years on various capacities, and of which the North East Community Chest is an outgrowth. In these and many other activities, Mrs. Hirtzel made significant contributions of service to the local and wider community.

After the beautiful Episcopal service, Brother Willard of the Brotherhood of St. Barnabas, read the 23rd Psalm and Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar." Interment in Oak Hill cemetery was private.

Mrs. Hirtzel is survived by her husband and one son, Philip D. Hirtzel; a sister, Mrs. Katherine D. Wilson, of Los Angeles, Calif., and North East, and a twin brother, Bertrand E. Dewey, an executive of the Pullman Co., in Chicago. An older brother, Clayton O. Dewey, of Wellesley, Mass., preceded her in death several years ago.

What Endocrine can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL®. This ACTIVOL® is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollar? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

Ferriss Is Not Convinced That Banks Are "Bygones"; Three Of His Four Losses To Them

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody can convince Dave Ferriss that the New York Yankees are just a shadow of the old murder and the rookie of the year evidence to back up his case. The spectacular Boston Red Sox shman has lost only four games in winning 17 but three of his backs were at the hands of the New Yorkers.

When the discharged air force broke into the league with its straight triumphs, including 5-0 shutout of the Yankees, the writers were scurrying for the red books to excavate matching ads. But Joe McCarthy's clan an end to the search by knocking him off the pedestal 3-2, on a Sunday afternoon in June, Ferriss at the time shrugged off the loss as "one of those things," calling he had lost games in the old league and he'd lost more up in the big tent.

Next time the husky right-hand came up against the Yankees he is slugged off the hill, the only he has been kayoed in 20 hits, and soundly drubbed, 14-4, Walter Dubiel.

The prize rookie had lost only since and Dubiel hadn't beat a soul since that June 21 day till yesterday when they again shed at Fenway Park. Ferriss isn't knocked out or even close to the New York team combat.

ACCUSED

I've been accused of being a "Yes Man"... and come to think of it—I am! That is, I like to say "Yes" when people ask for a loan. Which is only logical, after all, for the more times I say "Yes" the more loans I make. And since making Personal Loans is my full-time business, that's mighty important to me.

*Usually I can say "Yes" in a hurry. But even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why Personal is so often able to make loans that others cannot.

*Of course—once in a while I can't find a way. That's natural. When that happens, I personally sit down with the customer in a private office and discuss the situation frankly, on a common sense basis.

Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing... but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes". Anytime you need extra cash—see me, won't you? Right now, for instance. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty St., second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

Water Fowl Regulations Are Delayed By Absence

Washington, Aug. 1.—(P)—The annual water fowl hunting regulations, usually issued in July, have been delayed because of President Truman's absence from the country.

The regulations, which must have the signature of the chief executive, have been down to Potsdam, the Fish and Wildlife Service said yesterday. Officials expect to announce this season's rules early in August.

Emmy Morrison, manager-player of the National Forge baseball team, received his notice yesterday from Harrisburg notifying him that he had successfully passed his pre-induction physical and that he is to report for duty sometime in the next three weeks. The loss of Morrison to the team will put an almost unreplaceable hole in the NFO's infield, as well as to the team. Emmy hopes to get navy duty.

Pre-season predictions don't always come true, though, so Warren may have a better year

It's a far cry from a New Guinea jungle to the golf links, but WAC Capt. Margaret Hastings made it in par. She is one of three survivors of plane crash who spent 47 days in the "Shangri-La" valley before being rescued. She's shown playing on golf course near Owego, N. Y.

than most people forecast. Jim Scallise, backfieldman, and Bob Gerardi, veteran linemen, are the only two returning who have the high school "W".

Rain Washes Out Both Men's and Girls' Games

Rain washed out both the Sylvania-Grace contest in the men's softball league last night and the girls' Sylvania-National Forge meeting.

Tonight, the First Methodists meet Sylvania in the regularly scheduled next-to-the-last game of the second round. The girls' league resumes action tomorrow night when Thomas Coupling and Struthers battle it out on Beatty Field at 6:15.

BIG FISH, LITTLE BOY
Ocean City, N. J., Aug. 1.—(P)—The largest game fish caught here this season went to 12-year-old Everett Griffiths, Jr.

The lad hauled in an 89-pound mako shark yesterday with an ordinary hand line. The shark, a tropical variety usually found in waters off Florida, put up a 45-minute battle.

HOW SMART PEOPLE AND JACK BENNY LATCH ON TO THEIR MONEY

by Fred Allen

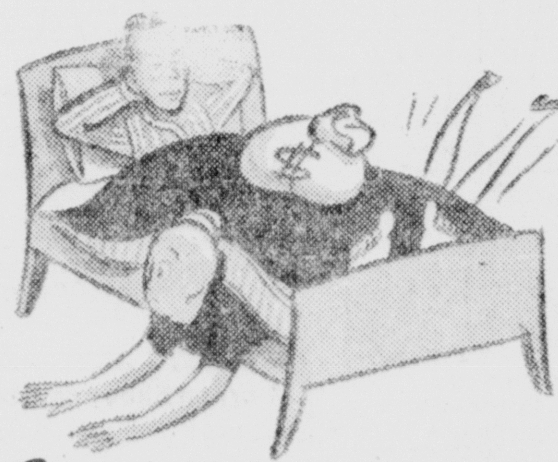

1. Smart people hang on to their money by buying War Bonds—and holding them. Jack Benny does, too. But don't let that stop you. Buy some anyway. All high-class people do this. For example, I do. Lowlifes like Benny imitate us upper-crust denizens by buying Bonds just so they can get their picture in the Police Gazette.

2. Among polite circles, it is no longer considered de rigueur to trip up the waiter or cash in your War Bonds. In these circles, it is also deemed a trifle gauche—that's hog Latin for sloppy—to dunk your feet in the finger bowl. When Benny finds this out, he'll probably be so embarrassed he'll break down and start wearing shoes.

3. The boys coming back from Europe and Okinawa probably won't lope up to you breathlessly and dangle a medal around your neck for buying War Bonds, but you can bet your bottom Jap yen they won't give you the water cure, either. They know the importance of Bonds—they buy enough every month themselves to make Benny's toupee turn green.

4. The laziest way in the world to make extra money is to let those War Bonds accumulate interest. You get back 133% on your original investment in ten years. So let all your spare cash snooze away in War Bonds. If you must tuck something under your mattress, try your mother-in-law.

5. And don't think because your Aunt Crack-lethroat's tea leaves spelled "rat" last Sunday that the end of this war is in sight. It's not even within swooning distance. So make like Benny and pinch that penny. Or, as the farsighted zoo keeper said to the careless elephant keeper, "Till V-J day, hoard that hay!" Then, keep hoarding till the Bonds mature.

Martin To Greet The 28th Division

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(P)—Governor Edward Martin announced today he will go to Boston to greet the returning 28th Division tomorrow, but commented:

"There will be very few of the men I commanded, but it still will be the Red Keystone Division."

Martin commanded the former Pennsylvania National Guard Division in the early stages of the war. Major General Norman D. Cota is bringing back the outfit Cota led from Normandy to Germany. After leave and furloughs, it will be reassembled at Camp San Luis Luis Obispo, Calif., in preparation for action against the Japanese.

Martin pointed out that 2700 of the division's enlisted men at the time he commanded the unit have become officers, and the original personnel "are scattered all over the world." It now comprises men from virtually every state, he added.

4,000 Soldiers To Help Rail Industry

Kane, Aug. 1—(P)—Authorities were searching today for $20,000 worth of War Bonds reported stolen from a tin lock box in the apartment of Joseph Beauseigneur, proprietor of the Beauseigneur Cafe.

Beauseigneur said the bonds, in denominations from $50 to $1,000, were stolen not long after the box was removed from a safe in the cafe to the apartment upstairs. He and his wife left the apartment unlocked while they were out for dinner he said.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

FRANK J. COLBERT

Frank J. Colbert, of Garland, died at nine o'clock last evening in Warren General Hospital, where he had been a patient since June 29. Mr. Colbert was born in Homestead on February 19, 1895, and resided there until 1940, when he came to Garland to make his home. He worked for a time at the local Struthers-Wells plant, leaving there a year and a half ago to work as a draftsman at the Aero Supply in Corry. In ill health since December, he had been unable to work for some time.

He served as a lieutenant with a heavy artillery division in World War I and was a member of the Hallgren-Wilcox Post, American Legion, at Youngsville, also an honorary member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Homestead. He was a member of St. John's Catholic church at Tidouette.

Besides his wife, Helen T. Colbert, he leaves the following children: Rita, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Harold Holcomb, Starbuck; Dolores, Patricia and Thomas, at home; Sgt. Frank J. Colbert, Jr., with the Air Forces in Europe. A brother, Howard, of Munhall, also survives him.

Removal has been made to the family home at Garland and friends may call there. Funeral services will be held on Friday morning, the hour to be announced on Thursday.

Leahy Letter Is Offered at Treason Trial

without it. His treason began on July 11, 1940, when he plotted against the republic. At that moment Petain outrageously violated his responsibilities to the republic.

Once again, he promised that written documents—unknown to most people—would be presented, constituting "the true basis for this action."

Attorneys for Petain, charged with intelligence with Germany and plotting against France, contend that Laval was responsible for the Vichy regime's policy of collaboration with the Germans and hope that his testimony will save the aged marshal from a death sentence.

The prosecution, on the other hand, has been maintaining throughout the eight days of the trial that Petain worked hand and glove with Laval, his No. 1 man and chief of government, in collaboration with the Nazis.

News that the swarthy, long-forgotten Laval had arrived in Austria from Spain and surrendered was communicated to court officials and attorneys yesterday afternoon by The Associated Press and it sent most of them scurrying off for hurried consultations.

RETURNED G. I.'S TO START TAXI BUSINESS

Philadelphia, Aug. 1—(P)—A proposal to start an independent taxi-cab system run by discharged servicemen has been approved by Mayor Bernard Samuel.

A delegation representing the "G. I. Taxicab Association," a group of 62 ex-servicemen, met with the mayor yesterday. They are seeking the right to buy and operate their own cars.

"I am solidly behind the plan that will help to rehabilitate returning servicemen, and if this G. I. Taxi plan answers the purpose x x x, I am for it," the mayor said.

(From Page One)

The meeting likely will be preceded by another get-together by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. Another conference of committees made up of the staffs of the three delegations also was expected.

A spokesman said "a great deal of progress was made by the three leaders at a 3 1/2 hour meeting yesterday."

The conference's survival of the defeat of the government of Prime Minister Churchill, one of the original Big Three, apparently demonstrates the solid foundation for decisions which had been reached.

It is expected the results of the parley will be announced in a joint communiqué to be released simultaneously in London, Washington and Moscow.

The president will fly to Plymouth in the big four-motored C-54 which carried President Roosevelt to the Yalta conference and which Truman used to fly to the San Francisco meeting last September. After meeting with the king, the president will board the cruiser Augusta and return home, where he will formally report to the people of the United States in a nationwide radio address.

It was understood that the president planned to dine with the British royal family, but that he did not expect to spend the night in England.

lin borough, were drawn through the streets to Central Park, where a formal welcome was given.

Overcome when the throng called for a speech, Tomlinac declared: "I'm almost speech-bound. The only thing I can think of is to thank you for this fine celebration and ovation."

At an interview, Tomlinac didn't talk much about how he won his Congressional Medal last September in Versoul, France, when he rode a blazing, abandoned tank into a Nazi stronghold, knocking out a roadblock in action which resulted in death or capture for 60 Germans.

Instead he talked about his future. He isn't sure whether he'll ask for his discharge or seek further action.

He isn't going back to his job in a Johnstown steel mill. If he does request his discharge, he plans to enter the University of Nebraska and study engineering.

Meanwhile, he and his bride, the former Betty Schneider, have gone to Franklin borough, where another reception, with a dinner, is planned.

E. Roosevelt In Statement Scores Critics

The treasury began its investigation on orders of the house ways and means and senate finance committees.

It stemmed from a story early in June by Columnist Westbrook Pegler that young Roosevelt had borrowed $200,000 in 1939 from John Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, that the debt was settled three years later for $4,000 by Jesse Jones, then secretary of commerce, and that Hartford listed his loss as a bad debt on his 1942 income tax return.

Pegler wrote that "President Roosevelt knew of the loan and approved of it."

General Roosevelt, who reverts to inactive status August 15, said he filed his retirement request on May 11, three days after V-E Day.

July Score of Jap Planes Knocked Out By American Sea and Air Power 1,330

(From Page One)

Absence of Japanese air opposition was blamed by Rear Adm. William E. Blandy, new commander of Pacific fleet cruisers and destroyers, at least partially on lack of aviation gasoline. Tokyo acknowledged it.

The U. S. Sixth and 32nd Divisions joined in northern Luzon island of the Philippines for the final drive on supposed headquarters of the once arrogant Nipponese commander—Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita. The 38th Division mopping up the Sierra Madre claimed a record kill. The division has killed 25,000 Japanese since it entered the Luzon campaign.

NO RED POINTS?

Cincinnati, Aug. 1—(P)—The Procter and Gamble Co., have used 90,000 pounds of rancid butter to make 125,000 pounds of soap. Company officials said they purchased the butter about two weeks ago from a lot offered generally to the industry. They declined to name the supplier but said the butter was unfit for human consumption.

Relief Recipients Now Can Choose Their Own Physician

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(P)—Pennsylvanians whose only income is from state relief funds can go to any doctor they choose and get free medical treatment, beginning today.

The state will pay the doctor's bill, under a new system developed by the department of public assistance after consultation with professional groups.

Formerly the department allotment of physicians who treated relief recipients. A result was that some doctors went unpaid if the allotment was insufficient to cover all the bills.

"There was dissatisfaction among professional people and recipients," said Robert P. Wray, acting secretary of public assistance.

Under the new set-up, the department has established a scale of fees, and listed the types of cases covered by its policy. For example, only those who can not get to a doctor's office are entitled to home calls. Each relief recipient is entitled to a maximum of three treatments a month unless the county medical advisory board finds he needs more.

The program does not apply to pulmonary tuberculosis or venereal diseases, except for a visit for diagnosis, because state clinics are available to handle those diseases. Neither will physicians be paid for services given to hospitalized patients, because the recipients are eligible

Cpl. Kane En Route Home

From "Tophat" staging area at Antwerp, Belgium, comes word that Cpl. Francis H. Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kane, of Russell, is on his way home under the army redeployment program.

Cpl. Kane, who entered the army in February 24, 1942, and has been overseas 27 months, served with both 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions, participating in the Sicily, Cassino, Anzio, Rome, southern France, Bastogne and German campaigns. He wears the Bronze Star Medal, the Purple Heart and the Presidential Unit Citation badge. His citation for the first decoration reads:

"Cpl. Francis H. Kane, Para. Inf., while serving with the Army of the United States, distinguished himself by meritorious service in connection with operations against the enemy from 9 July 1943 to 26 December 1944. Cpl. Kane has served his unit throughout the Sicilian, Italian, Southern France and Belgium campaigns as a radio and switchboard operator with the utmost loyalty and zeal. His courage and resourcefulness were demonstrated in the splendid work he performed as a wireman and member of various patrols. His devotion to duty and energy have been a constant inspiration to his section. His actions were in accordance with the highest standards of military service."

GETS PROMOTION

Promotion of Otto K. Lynch, of Warren and New Castle, to corporal is announced by Col. O. F. Carlson, commanding officer of an air base on Guam in the Marianas. A production control clerk, Cpl. Lynch fills one of the hundreds of specialized jobs necessary to keep the Marianas-based Superforts in fighting trim. He entered the Army Air Forces on November 5, 1943, and arrived at Guam in January, 1945. Cpl. Lynch was graduated from Warren High School in 1937 and was employed by the Penn Furnace and Iron Company prior to his entry into active service. His wife, the former Margaret C. ONE OF MARS TASK FORCE PILOTS

Among readers especially interested in last night's Associated Press dispatches from New Delhi concerning the famous "Mars Task Force" were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lutz, 125 Biddle street, whose son, Flight Officer William Lutz, Jr., was one of the pilots who helped to fly that combat group over the Himalayas. In a letter home, he indicated that the mission was without a single mishap and that a "load of mules up 17,000 feet is a shifty cargo to fly."

HAS PROMOTION

Camp Wolters, Texas, reports that John S. Barr, husband of Ruth Miller Barr, 161 1/2 Glade avenue, has been advanced from sergeant to staff sergeant. Inducted at New Cumberland on June 10, 1944, he is now a heavy weapons instructor at Camp Wolters, and has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

Lt. Langhans Is Processed

From headquarters of a P-47 Thunderbolt group in the European assembly area comes word that 1st Lt. Edward A. Langhans, 16 Crescent Park, is now being processed at Camp Detroit as a member of a fighter squadron being redeployed directly to the Pacific area.

Lt. Langhans is a pilot with the group, which in 16 months has been in continuous combat in the European theatre. During this period, fighters of the unit participated in the air offensive over Europe, and, since the invasion, cooperated with ground troops in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany for five major campaigns. The squadron has been twice cited as a distinguished unit, the first coming as a result of its cooperation with ground forces in repulsing a strong enemy counter-attack in the vicinity of Aschen, Germany, on October 15, 1944; the second, for its extraordinary heroism while assisting 9th Army troops on December 6, 1944, in the capture of Julich, Germany.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Langhans, the young pilot has been overseas seven months. He is authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit badge with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Air Medal with three clusters and the ETO ribbon with two battle stars.
